Very well-maintained example
Restored to a high standard

Vehicle history:

Produced on December 10, 1958, in Stuttgart and initially delivered to Italy, where it was used until 1960. Subsequently shipped to the USA, where the second owner kept the car for several decades.

In 2005, another owner took over the vehicle.

After that, the Mercedes passed into the hands of two further owners before finally being returned to Europe and imported into the Netherlands.

The car is offered including service booklet, insurance documents, contemporary owner's manual, and a copy of the original Mercedes-Benz delivery certificate.

The body is finished in white and in very good condition. In the interior, red leather seats complement the well-maintained carpets. The dashboard with chrome instruments is in good condition, as is the ivory steering wheel with horn ring. The black soft top is also in well-maintained condition.

This vehicle was comprehensively restored several years ago and remains in good overall condition to this day. With its long history, few owners, and over 40 years in the hands of one
